ABSOLUTELY PURE

Carrier's Address.

You may tell in charming and wonderful rhymes
Of the grand improvements of modern times;
Of the progress made in our world and its ways,
And all the advances of modern days;
But I prefer, though sluggish and slow,
The good old times of the Long Ago.

You may write of our useful and new inventions;
Of the pride of the people and future intentions;
Of mankind's wonderful elevation,
And the prospects bright of the present nation;
But I fail to discover, wherever I go,
The good old times of the Long Ago.

We may send our telegrams over the ocean,
And raise in a moment a dire commotion;
May fly like a bird o'er the continent grand,
And with steam's mighty strength skim the water
And land;

But far more happy we were, I know,
In the good old times of the Long Ago.

In the good old days of pumpkin pies,
When people were honest and true and wise;
When the farmer, happy at set of sun,
Rested happy, his day's work done,
By the hickory fire, with its cheerful glow,
In the good old times of the Long Ago.

When the merchant gave honest and upright
measures,
And regarded his conscience far more than his treasure;

When a beauty in finery and calico dressed,
Was esteemed and considered as good as the best;
When there were no classes of high and of low
In the good old times of the Long Ago.

When there was no striving for other men's places,
And eminent lawyers had very few cases,
And doctors were scarce, and their patients were few,

And each of them had very little to do,
For the people lived frugal and careful and slow
In the good old times of the Long Ago.

When there were no selfish and shrewd politicians,
All striving and seeking for lofty positions,
Deceiving the people with all sorts of measures
To gratify only their own selfish pleasures;
And the statesmen were honest, as all of us know,
In the good old times of the Long Ago.

Oh, for the glorious, Heavenly times
When the State got along without trouble or crimes,

When the old women knitted and made their own clothes,
And the men had no big bills, nor worries, nor woes;

Oh, bring back the days, to the high and the low,
Of the good old times of the Long Ago.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

A Contract for Bridge Lights and Other Matters Attended to.

At the meeting of the city council Tuesday night, all the members were present excepting Messrs. Collins and Haff.

Mr. John Sinclair was granted a license for a saloon at the old Tobin stand.

The Board of Health notified the council that they had elected Dr.
George Chinn the city physician, and fixed his salary at $500 per annum.
The report, which also embraced certain sanitary recommendations, was referred to the new council and the salary fixed by the Board concurred in.

The gas committee reported that a contract had been made with the Gas Company for ten incandescent lights for the St. Clair street bridge at sixty-five cents each per month.
The contract was unanimously confirmed.

Mr. Darnell made a minority report to allow J. E. Kirtley $100 additional salary as assessor, the veto of the Mayor to the contrary notwithstanding,
and the vote resulted yeas 5, nays 2, which, for want of the required number to pass it over the Mayor's veto, was lost.

An appropriation of $80 for Joe Burkhardt for four months rent of West End School house was made.

A license for a dry goods store in Ed. Harris stand was granted to Hecht Bros. & Co.

W. McKee Hardie's license was placed at $30.

The clerk was directed to pay over all money in his hands due the Sinking Fund Commissioners, and with the chairman of school board to collect the interest due the school fund on the school bonds. He was also instructed to make a report of the expenses of the work house for the past year and have it published.

Strong Witnesses.

Among the thousands of testimonials of cures by Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, is that of Nathan Allison, a well-known citizen of Glen Rock, Pa., who for years had shortness of breath, sleeplessness, pain in left side, shoulders, smothering spells, etc.;
one bottle of Dr. Miles' New Heart
Cure and one box of Nerve and Liver Pills, cured him. Peter Jaquet, Salen, N. J., is another witness, who twenty years suffered with Heart Disease, was pronounced incurable by physicians, death stared him in the face, could not lie down for fear of smothering to death. Immediately after using the New Cure he felt better and could lie down and sleep all night, and is now a well man. The New Cure is sold, also a free book, by J. W. Gayle.

Will Probated.

The will of Mr. Joseph Parrent, dated December 4, 1892, was admitted to probate Monday. The deceased bequeaths to his wife, Elizabeth, during her natural life, and in lieu of her dower, the farm on which the couple resided, on South Benson, and all the stock, household goods, furniture, provisions and other personal property which may be on the premises at the time of the death of the testator.
Power is granted to the wife to sell as much of the personality as will be sufficient to pay the just debts of the decedent. After the death of his wife, the testator directs that the real estate and other property shall be divided equally among his three children, Richard and Taylor Parrent and Mary Susan Wheat.

Richard Parrent is named as executor of the will, which bears the attestation of G. W. Hall, G. W. Chinn
and J. H. Parrent.

It Should Be Every House.

J. B. Wilson, 371 Clay St., Sharpsburg, Pa., says he will not be without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, that it cured his wife who was threatened with Pneumonia after an attack of "LaGrippe" when various other remedies and several physicians had done her no good. Robert Barber, of Cookport, Pa., claims Dr. King's New Discovery has done him more good than anything he ever used for Lung Trouble. Nothing like it.

PUGILISTIC PRIEST.

Rev. Father Donley Cools Off a Tough on a Train.

Just before the Junction City accommodation train on the Q. & C. Railroad left Cincinnati Monday afternoon, five tough characters got on board and went into the smoking car, where Rev. Father E. T. Donley, of Nicholasville, was seated enjoying his cigar. Just after the train pulled out of the city the toughs began firing off their pistols in the car, and Father Donley arose from his seat
and told them it must be stopped.
They began to abuse him when he walked back in the train, hunted up the conductor, told him what had happened and requested him to come into the smoker and help make the toughs quit shooting. The conductor went forward into the car and demanded to know who had fired the pistol, but no one said a word, when he notified the passengers in the coach that such conduct would not be permitted, went out and proceeded to take up tickets in the rear coaches. Father Donley returned to his seat for the purpose of finishing his cigar, but the conductor had hardly gotten out of the door before one of the toughs began to curse and abuse the priest. As quick as a flash the Reverend Father struck the fellow a stunning blow in the eye
with his fist, raised a window, collared him and threw him out.
After waiting for a few minutes to see if any of the fellow's companions wished to tackle him, Father Donley quietly walked back into another coach, took a seat with several gentlemen and was carelessly relating what had occurred, as if it was a matter of no consequence, when a rough looking character, with a very black eye and a gash cut in his head, and apparently large enough and stout enough to tie the reverend gentleman in a bow knot, came in at the rear door and walked slowly through the car. Father Donley caught sight of him in an instant and remarked,
"That is the duck now, and he's looking for me." The fellow came up the aisle, and seeing the Rev. Father with one hand grasping the arm of his seat and in a position to spring upon him if he made a single hostile demonstration, only glared at the priest and passed on. When he had gone Father Donley remarked:
"The lad thinks he can lick me, but he had best not try it; I know the whole lot of them; they get off at my station and may attack me there,
but I am loaded for them,"
significantly tapping his hip pocket.
Fortunate for the fellow who made the unwilling trip through the window, the train was slowing up at the time, and not being seriously injured
by his fall he was able to scramble up and catch the back platform of the rear coach as the train went by him.
The Reverend Father is not very tall but compactly built and very athletic, and the tough customer evidently thought he had struck a cyclone, when he had time to sit down and pull himself together.

Our informant left the train at Lexington and was unable to learn whether there was further trouble,
but he firmly believes that Father
Donley is a member of the Church
Triumphant as well as the Church
Militant.

Do You Know

That a large percentage of deaths in this country are caused by consumption and lung trouble? A little cold neglected in the beginning often terminates in consumption. Every time you cough you increase the trouble, and an inflammation is soon started, which is difficult to cure. There is one remedy that cures quickly every kind of cough.
That is Dr. Haff's Household Cough Cure. It is the best. Are you not entitled to the best? For sale at 25 and 50c. a bottle at CARPENTER'S drug store.

venir Spoons ever brought to Wolf's orchestra, furnished the music.

The entertainment by Miss Christine Reynolds at her home at Fleetwood, Wednesday night, in honor of her guests, the Misses Westfeldt, of North Carolina, was attended by a large party of young ladies and gentlemen from this city. A departure from the usual euchre and what entertainment was made by Miss Reynolds in the games played during the evening. There were ten tables and at each a different kind of game was in progress, the head table being whist, the second rings, the third casino, the fourth old maid, the fifth euchre, the sixth tiddly winks, the seventh euchre, the eighth angling, the ninth hearts and the tenth diddy winks.
Mr. Will Grayton in a score of eleven won the first prize and Miss Westfeldt the second. Besides Miss Reynolds and the Misses Westfeldt, those present were as follows:

The ladies of the Columbian Club, of this city, of which Mrs. Wm. Lindsay is the President, have arranged for a novel entertainment to aid in raising the required funds to furnish a Kentucky parlor at the World's Fair. It is designed to hold a royal reception Tuesday night, January 17th, at the residence of Judge Lindsey, on Wapping street, at which a regular Spanish court, with Queen Isabella on the throne, attended by her ladies in waiting, will form a part of the programme. The etiquette of a court will be observed, the callers after entering waiting to be summoned to the royal presence in the throne room, where Her Majesty will graciously discourse on the topics of the day, particularly that of the World's Fair which, as a part of the great results of her generous equipment of a fleet for Columbus to make his discoveries, is a source of much pride and gratification to her. The callers will then be conducted to the supper room where refreshments will be provided for them. For this splendid entertainment, which will bring back the period of Ferdinand and Isabella, and pay the fitting tribute to the memory of that Queen who placed her faith and money in the adventure of Columbus, a charge of fifty cents will be made towards raising the proposed funds. As it is wholly a movement on the part of the ladies and because it was Isabella and not Ferdinand to whom Columbus was indebted for his fleet, the court will be held by Isabella alone in her own Castilian right of sovereignty. Who Isabella will be, has not yet been learned, but it is said that a lady has been selected who will most worthily wear the honors. The entertainment, although just planned within the last few days, has enlisted the interest of all society and promises to be the most brilliant social event of the season.

A TESTIMONIAL

To Mr. Walter Franklin, the Retiring Circuit Clerk, by the Frankfort Bar.

On Tuesday, after the adjournment of the Circuit Court at noon, the members of the bar organized a meeting by making Judge P. U. Major Chairman and Judge B. G. Williams Secretary.

A committee on resolutions composed of Judge Ira Julian and John W. Rodman was then appointed and subsequently reported the following resolutions expressive of the sense of the local bar on the retirement of Mr. Walter Franklin from the office of Clerk of the Circuit Court, a position which, as deputy and clerk, Mr. Franklin has held for the past fifty years:

"Since our esteemed personal friend and most excellent public officer, Walter Franklin, has retired from his duties as Circuit Clerk of this county, we, the members of the Frankfort bar, desire to express our admiration and unbounded commendation of his faithful career as clerk and a high-toned, honorable citizen. "None but a remarkably efficient, well qualified and popular officer could have served the people so acceptably through a continuous period of fifty years, as Mr. Franklin has done for this county."

"We know that this bar can never forget our long association with him, nor cease to thank him for his laborious, methodical and systematic discharge of his duties as clerk. "He has always been the real friend of the bar, the court and the people, by his remarkable knowledge of his duties and his fearless criticism of irregularities in the practice, from whatever source they emanate. "If this bar was asked who is the best Circuit Clerk in the State we would say in one voice, Walter Franklin."

"We cordially endorse the language of our late Circuit Judge, Warren Montfort, when he said, in a recent letter, 'I have had much to do with clerks and courts, and I now say Walter Franklin is the best clerk I have ever known.' "We wish our faithful friend and officer to know that he carries with him in retirement our unqualified approval of his official service for half a century, our kindest and sincerest good wishes for his prosperity in the future."

Following the report of the resolutions Judge Julian, in a speech of some length, dwelt feelingly upon the long and faithful service of Mr. Franklin, and he was followed by Mr. Frank Chinn, Judge Drane and Judge Major, who also bore testimony of Mr. Franklin's faithfulness as a public servant.

Mr. T. B. Ford, the successor of Mr. Franklin, was chosen to make the speech in presenting Mr. Franklin with a very handsome and costly arm chair, upholstered in plush. Mr. Franklin responded briefly, hoping he said, to continue to merit the respect and good will of the bar and thanking them sincerely for their kindness.

There were present at the meeting: T. N. Lindsey, W. H. Posey, T. F. Tremere, Wm. Cronwell, Commonwealth's Attorney Hon. John Smith, County Attorney L. F. Johnson, Judge G. C. Drane, T. L. Edelen, T. B. Ford, Jeff. Lucas, Hugh Rodman, D. W. Lindsey, B. G. Williams, P. U. Major, J. B. Lindsey, C. F. Exum, T. G. Poore, W. H. Julian, James Polsgrove, R. B. Before adjournment Judge Drane moved that the resolutions be spread upon the records of the court and a copy furnished Mr. Franklin.

COLLECTOR OF FIFTH DISTRICT—Mr. John B. Martin, Jr., of Owenton, who was a clerk in the State Auditor's office in 1883, is an applicant for Collector of Revenue in the Fifth District—in Louisville. Mr. Martin is a brother-in-law of ex Lieut. Gov. Bryan and also of Mr. Attila Cox, who formerly held the office under President Cleveland and who is now said will be tendered the position of Commissioner of Internal Revenue. No one can be better qualified to fill the office at Louisville than Mr. Martin, nor can anyone present stronger claims for the appointment, and a pin may be stuck in this now as a direct pointer, that President Cleveland is not likely to look further than Mr. Martin when the time for the appointment arrives.

GOOD GUESSESS—The large doll that was on display at Sower & Ahler's for some time past was won by Lillie B. Hall, of the Switzer precinct, was the lucky guesser of the number of seeds in the gourd at Mr. John T. Buckley's store, which a committee composed of Messrs. George A. Lewis, E. J. Roberts and J. B. Dryden found contain 557 seeds. A Favorite Range valued at fifty dollars was the prize that went to Mr. Hall.

THE COLDEST NIGHT—Thursday night the thermometer struck bottom at 2° below zero which, it is said, was the coldest weather experienced here since 1885. Fine sleighing and skating are now enjoyed by the young people, and if the weather holds out a few days the floating ice in the river would warrant the prediction that the Kentucky will be turned into a skating park.

THE KENTUCKY RIVER.

A Meeting of Citizens Requested to Make Arrangements for the Committee of County Delegates.

A few public spirited citizens, realizing the great importance of the Kentucky river to the growth and prosperity of this city, are making the effort to enlist in the cause the attention and encouragement of the entire community, particularly the business portion. Believing that nothing will succeed to which a profound indifference is displayed, it is proposed that a convention of representatives from every county along the river, from the headwaters to the Ohio, and including the cities of Louisville, Madison and Cincinnati, be held in this city on the 18th inst., to memorialize Congress upon the necessity of making larger appropriations to the improvement of the navigation of the river, than in the past twelve years, during which but one new lock was added to the number of locks built by the State and ceded with the river to the United States in 1880.

This convention, besides presenting the advantages that will grow out of a speedy completion of the work in hand, will testify to Congressmen, especially in the districts interested, that the people are in earnest in urging the matter before them and respectfully insist that it be given the consideration that such an important public enterprise demands. The people of this city, to whom the most benefits of the work are bound to flow, are merely asked to lend the cause their hearty support and aid the projectors of the movement in arranging for the convention by meeting at the court-house next Monday night at 7:30 o'clock to formulate a programme and appoint committees to make all necessary preliminary preparations. If no action is taken in this matter it will require at the present rate of progress, a quarter of a century or more to complete the work, which, if shortened to five or six years, will give the period of at least a whole generation to the utilization of the benefits derived. This river is really Frankfort's chief outlook for her future. Railroads may come and make competent to a small extent an advantage to the shipper, but the river, unlike a rail, is open to many competing lines of transportation against which, on certain freights, the railroads can not enter the contest. Besides it must not be forgotten that a large part of the wealth which the developments at the headwaters will send down the river in coal, timbers, building stones, clays and other material, enriching the counties from which they come and along which they float, cannot pass on the only large city on the river without leaving it a corresponding advantage. Give the matter then a few moments of your time Monday night, and whether you are a merchant, manufacturer, artisan, professional man or citizen of other business pursuits, you have aided a cause which cannot fail to promote the interests of the city in which you make your home and livelihood.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

The Appropriation of $100,000 Again up for Consideration Before the Legislature.

The House has a bill before it for the appropriation of $100,000 for the World's Fair and the Senate one for $50,000. The former body made the matter a special order for Wednesday, and a large delegation of ladies and gentlemen came to the city that day from Louisville and other places to use their influence in securing the passage of the bill. Much opposition was developed while the House had the question under consideration, and finally an adjournment was effected to gain time, with the hope that the next day would find a larger attendance of the friends of the measure. Thursday, however, the bill was made a special order for next Tuesday.

The Senate bill will come up to-day as a special order, but it is probable it will also be postponed. In the meantime every argument and influence that can be devised are brought to bear upon the members to vote for the appropriation, the friends of the bill claiming that any thing less will not be sufficient for Kentucky to make any kind of a creditable display at Chicago. A number of members claim that their objection to the bill grows out of the belief that the present or former Commission have, by their subservience to the Governor's caprice, shown an utter incapacity to properly expend the money to the State's highest advantage; that if the bill were re-enacted the Governor is certain to re-appoint the former commissioners, which virtually puts the matter under the direction of the Governor. They say further that the same commissioners, despite their own refusal to test the validity of the former bill, from as far back as the latter part of August until the Governor finally gave his consent to it, repeatedly maintained that if the money was not paid out at once by the Auditor, the State could not possibly have sufficient time to make a display, and yet it is now January and still they say they'll have ample time to expend the entire sum and make a magnificent display. Other members desire to reduce the amount of the appropriation to $50,000 on the ground that the State should do no more than erect a building and place on exhibition a certain number of public evidences of the condition, progress and development of the State, and leave the rest to individual enterprise, where, they say, it properly belongs. The State should be represented at Chicago, and it would be a pity to defeat the appropriation entirely, but if the measure should finally be rejected, as it now appears it will be, the Governor and his pliant commissioners will be responsible for it, however much their friends endeavor to shift the blame:

The Famous Dictator.

Of an aged trotting sire owned by a former resident of this county, the Home and Farm of Louisville, of this week says:

The old and famous trotting sire Dictator will soon be thirty years old. He is looking better than he did this time last year, and his owner, Maj. H. C. McDowell, of Lexington, thinks the chances are good for the old fellow living through the coming winter. He is fed on molasses and meal, with some nice, clean fodder to pick. An attempt was made to induce him to eat sorghum molasses, but the aristocratic old brother of the great Dexter would not touch it. He eats nothing but the best golden syrup. Dictator was an old horse when Maj. McDowell gave $25,000 for him, but he has earned in stud fees and produce, over $100,000 for the proprietor of Ashland. Being the sire of the wonderful Jay-Ee See and the grand sire of Nancy Hanks, Directum and Direct, besides the progenitor of hundreds of other fast horses, Dictator will always hold a high place in trotting horse history.

Rev. Willis Ways Ordained.

The Western Recorder of December 28th, gives the following account of the ordination to the Baptist ministry of a former Frankfort boy in Louisville:

The Rev. W. L. Ways was ordained to the ministry at Walnut-street church on the night of December 14th. The occasion was of special interest. Dr. W. M. Pratt presided. Dr. F. H. Kerfoot conducted the examination in the presence of the congregation. Dr. J. W. Jones presided in the ordaining prayer. Dr. J. A. Broadus presented the Bible and gave the charge to the candidate. The hand of fellowship was then given, and the benediction was pronounced by the candidate. Bro. Ways is a young man of unusual promise. He has charge of the Baptist church in Shippingport and he is pursuing studies in the Seminary. Mrs. Ways is a niece of the Hon. W. O. Bradley, and she has only lately become a Baptist.

AN EDITOR'S ERROR.

He Waited for His Change on a Street Car.

The chief pencil pusher on one of our daily papers, late the Caliph of Bagdad, concluded a few days ago that he would take a ride on a street car to see if the sensation of bowling along the streets over smooth rails was as pleasant as jolting over the mud roads on Mulberry. Accordingly he boarded a car and as the whole business was new to him, did not observe the notice: "Put the correct fare in the box." Supposing the fare receiver was some kind of a patent money changing machine, he stepped up to it, dropped a quarter in the slot and sat down to see how the datted thing would grind out his change. The car moved on rapidly and in course of time neared the point where he wished to get off, when he began to grow uneasy. Finally he could stand it no longer, and going to the forward end of the car said to the driver: "When do I get my change?" "What change?" asked the mule persuader. "Why, for that quarter I dropped in here," he said, placing his hand on the cash box; "the blamed thing must be out of gear, for I dropped the money in just after I got on, and the change hasn't come out yet and I'm out twenty cents." "Oh, that's it is it," said the driver. "Well, I guess you've paid pretty dear for your ride, for every thing that goes in there stays until night, and I have no authority to change money unless I receive the money first. You should have inquired what that box was for before you fooled with it; it is like the grave—never gives up anything. Sorry for you, but I can't help you."

"Well I'll be darned," mused our friend. "I thought I'd been in town long enough to get the green rubbed off, but blamed if I've got as much sense as Polsgrove's mule" that tried to run over an engine on the railroad bridge. I guess I'd better walk hereafter, as riding is too expensive."

HON. ALBERT S. BERRY,

Congressman From Newport, Interested in the Kentucky River Convention.

Hon. Albert S. Berry, of Newport, has written a letter to 'Capt. G. W. Daniel and A. H. Waggoner, of this city, in which he commends the action of the citizens of Frankfort in their effort to have the improvement of the Kentucky river speedily completed, and says that he will be here on the 18th inst. to attend the meeting of the delegates from the counties interested. Col. Berry is a gentleman of distinguished ability, and it is fortunate for Frankfort and the cause of the Kentucky river improvement that such an earnest and eloquent advocate has been found to urge the measure of large appropriations in Congress. Let the citizens now show an equal interest with Col. Berry in the movement and attend the meeting next Monday night at the court-house at 7:30 o'clock to make all necessary preliminary arrangements for the meeting of the delegates on the 18th inst. It is necessary to notify the county judges to make the appointment of delegates, to provide an hour and hall for the meeting and to arrange for a chairman to call the meeting to order who can properly present the objects and the advantages to be obtained by a speedy completion of the navigation to the inexhaustible coal and iron fields of Eastern Kentucky. The city of Louisville, which is experiencing much trouble with her gas, which, it is said, is caused by a poor quality of coal, is now feeling the great need of the canal coal, which the Director of the Geological survey states is practically unending in its supply and makes the finest and richest coal for illuminating gas that can be found in any part of the country. Frankfort also should have coal at reduced rates, and when the navigation is completed and the mines are opened, there is no reason why the citizens should not obtain it at eight instead of twelve cents.

Following is Col. Berry's letter:
DECEMBER 31st, 1892.
Messrs. G. W. Daniel and A. H. Waggoner, Frankfort, Ky.:

GENTLEMEN—Your letter of yesterday received. It will afford me pleasure to be with you on the 18th of January to aid in any way I can the most desirable object of hastening the improvement of the Kentucky river. Sincerely yours,
A. S. BERRY.

An Enemy Baffled.

There is an enemy with whom thousands are familiar all their lives, because they are born with a tendency to biliousness. With this enemy they are constantly battling with ineffectual weapons. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will battle it. Mere purgatives will not reform a disordered condition of the liver indicated, not by constipation alone, but also by sick headaches, yellowness of the skin and eye balls, nausea, furred tongue and uneasiness, more particularly upon pressure on the right side, upon and below the short ribs. Avoid drastic purgatives which grip and weaken the intestines, and substitute this world-famous and bilious condition reformer. It cures indigestion, stomachic and kidney complaints, rheumatism and nervousness. It is a laxative of the bowels, painless but effective. It improves appetite, sleep and the ability to digest, and possesses the additional advantage of a standard tonic.

Cleveland's All-United Minstrels.

Dear old Mr. Barnum, dead and gone, used to dilate on his hobby that his greatest on earth was a traveling object lesson, and W. S. Cleveland, the minstrel manager, seems to have followed on the same lines as Phinas, in his management.

For several seasons he gave us skilled companies of Japanese, and the Orientals astonished by their marvelous feats and acrobatics. Now he is presenting another strange people, the twelve genuine wild Arabs, whose performances are almost incredible in point of strength and human endurance. While this added attraction swells the expenses it will increase the receipts, as the other departments of the show are in no wise lessened. The first part presents such comedians as Barney Fagan, John Queen, the four Emperors of music, Ed. Howard, Russell, Kenna, and Talbert, and the original Big Four, Smith, Martin, Quinn and Sparks. The World's Fair Sextette of sweet singers, Nankerville, Howard, Francis, Davis, McCollier and B. S. Carnes. The olio is overloading with originalities and startling specialties, the entire ensemble maintaining the Cleveland standard of excellence.

At the Opera House on Wednesday evening next, January 11th.

Mr. William T. Price, a Justice of the Peace at Richland, Nebraska, was confined to his bed last winter with a severe attack of lumbago; but a thorough application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm enabled him to get up and go to work. Mr. Price says: "The remedy cannot be recommended too highly." Let any one troubled with rheumatism, neuralgia or lame back give it a trial and they will be one of the same opinion. 50 cent bottles for sale by J. W. Gayle, druggist.

His Cup Full.

Hon. E. H. Taylor, Jr., the member of the House from this county, was reported the other day as one of the aspirants to the place in the United States Senate about to be made vacant by the appointment of Hon. John G. Carlisle to the position of Secretary of the Treasury under President Cleveland, and questioned on the subject day before yesterday by the Courier-Journal correspondent he laughingly denied that there is any truth in the rumor and said: "My cup of political ambition is full. To be the Franklin county member of this Legislature and have the friendship of the ninety-nine other members of this House, which I have, is enough for me."

CIRCUIT COURT.

A New Set of Officers and the Work of the Week.

Hon. James E. Cantrill, of Georgetown, the new Circuit Judge, and Hon. Jno. S. Smith, of Bourbon county, the new Commonwealth's Attorney, of this district, came to the city Monday and opened the first term of the court under the new circuit court bill. Mr. Thomas B. Ford, who succeeded Mr. Walter Franklin, was at the desk and Mr. R. D. Armstrong, the new sheriff, and his deputies, Messrs. J. L. Holton, of Forks of Elkhorn; R. E. Deakins, of Bald Knob; Ben Poindexter, of Peak's Mill, and Nick Sullivan, of this city, all of whom had previously qualified by taking the oath, were present and ready to enter upon their respective duties. The first day was given up to the sheriff's summons the grand and petit juries, which on the second day were duly impaneled as follows:

GRAND JURY.

J. L. Rodman, foreman; John Mastin, sr., J. T. Buckley, Wm. Davis, Geo. Bryant, Geo. Green, Robt. McGruder, R. L. French, L. A. Trumbo, James Conley, W. R. Lawrence and Zack Thomasson.

PETIT JURY NO. 1.

C. N. Riner, S. T. Helait, Jno. Mayhall, H. T. Yount, Aus. Robinson, James Mulholland, Wm. Polk, Robt. Frazier, Dan Meagher, sr., P. C. Sower, Wm. J. Lewis and Ed. Wiley.

PETIT JURY NO. 2.

Wm. Ireland, Hilory Bedford, Sam Martin, T. J. Lee, Thos. McCaw, J. F. Bailey, Jas. Tichenor, Job Smith, David Hall, Van Harrod, Tom Nash and Lewis Cox.

The term of this court, as provided in the new court bill, can be extended to three weeks, but it is not thought that the docket is large enough to furnish work for that length of time. It is noteworthy that no murder case will be tried at this term.

Tuesday, Judge Cantrill charged the grand jury, and on Wednesday he appointed Mr. W. H. Posey Master Commissioner and Mr. Charles F. Exum Trustee of the Jury Fund, the former office paying in fees about fifteen hundred dollars, it is said, and the latter about one hundred dollars. Mr. Posey was the commissioner under Judge Montfort and had the recommendation of the largest part of the bar. He has made a capable official and will doubtless prove as efficient and faithful in the future as he did in the past. The duties of the Trustee of the Jury Fund are light but they are responsible, and because such a large bond of $5,000 for such a small pay was necessary, Mr. Exum declined to qualify and the court, it is said, will appoint John A. Brislan, of the Farmers Bank. His bond is now in course of preparation.

The case of Richard Kirk for carrying concealed weapon was in the hands of the jury last evening.

George Graves, colored, on Thursday, for stealing a guitar from Mr. W. H. Averill, was tried, found guilty and given a verdict of six months in jail.

There were sixty-six chancery suits continued until next term; also the case of the convict Hurst for an attempt to escape.

The case of James Gill, colored, who, with his brothers, was charged with killing Chas. McFall, colored, more than a year ago on an excursion train at Jetts was again continued until next term.

Ben Marshall obtained a judgment against Kate Smith and others for the sale of a tract of land.

Charles Williams, colored, the convict who cut another colored convict named Fred Price in the penitentiary last spring, got an additional sentence of two years for the crime.

Travelers may learn a lesson from Mr. C. D. Cone, a prominent attorney of Parker, Dakota, who says: "I never leave home without taking a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with me, and on many occasions have had with it to the relief of some sufferer and have never known it to fail." For sale by J. W. Gayle, druggist.

GOVERNOR VS. LESSEES.

The Message on Penitentiary Affairs Interesting to the Public and Especially Frankfort.

The Governor's Message on the Penitentiary affair was received Thursday in the House and Senate. It reads very peculiar to those who do not not know the lessees, and some of the facts in the case, and seems to be short in some particular, whether it be the facts or a peculiar style of expression is just a little hard to determine. It is to be hoped that the committee on prisons, to which it was referred, will not pigeon-hole the message but give the lessees an early opportunity of defending their position and the public the whole facts, as they are both interested, especially Frankfort, in the probable evil result from a sanitary point of view, of the over crowded condition. The Governor's votes have so far been very expensive affairs, and should be, by his arbitrary ruling and autocratic position in the prison matter be the cause of throwing the care of the prisoners upon the State at a no less cost of $100,000 per year, he will go out of office as the most expensive executive Kentucky has known.

UNITED STATES COURT.

The Cases of Local Interest Considered.

Judge John W. Barr, District Attorney George W. Jolly, Marshal D. J. Burchett, Assistant Attorney Shaw and Assistant Marshal Weaver, of Louisville, came to the city Monday, and with Mr. W. J. Chinn, Jr., of this city, as clerk, opened the semi-annual term of the United States Court. The grand and petit juries impaneled are as follows:

GRAND JURY.

James Garrett, foreman; Wm. McGruder, Robert Marion, S. J. Heatt, Newton J. Moore, Ben Sweeney, J. W. Denny, H. C. Hodges, G. B. Turley, J. W. Miller, W. T. Bond, A. W. Macklin, B. Farmer, Jno. Watkins, J. P. Pfeiffer, and Auther Howard.

PETIT JURY NO. 1.

L. Tobin, W. T. Tevis, George Mountjoy, Oliver Houchins, Ben C. Hardin, J. W. Davis, Jno. H. Kearney, W. H. Edwards, B. J. Mitchell, Preston Burris, Hugh Anderson and Henry Winton.

PETIT JURY NO. 2.

W. E. Gill, George W. Goode, E. B. Thomas, Wash. Siamons, Prentice Clubb, Joseph Orem, Moses Hardesty,

Johnson Barrett, Wm. Jackson, Mike Meagher, John Goddard, Lew Church and J. H. Sheets.

The case against Frank Steele, of Versailles, who was indicted at the last term of the court for alleged intimidation of witnesses, Mr. and Mrs. Henry White, as they were enroute home from this city after testifying against Steele in another case in which he was acquitted, was nolle prosequed and Steele discharged.

The case against Zack Moreland of this county, who was indicted for having molds in his possession for making counterfeit money and also passing counterfeit money, was under trial for two days, Mr. James Andrew Scott, of this city, and Mr. John B. O'Neill, of Covington, representing the defense, and District Attorney Jolly the United States. The jury had the matter under consideration for nearly twenty-four hours, when they reported they couldn't agree and Judge Barr dismissed them Thursday and ordered the case re-docketed for the next term.

The cases of Wm. Bright, cashier, Frank Gilmore, teller, and W. H. Cheppu, the bookmaker, of Lexington, in which the two former officers of the National Exchange Bank of that city, with the last named gentleman for aiding and abetting, were indicted on thirteen counts for making false entries and reports as to certain individual accounts, by reason of which these individuals over-drew their accounts more than $300, was called and finally continued until the next term in June.

The four cases from Jackson county, Frank James, ex-county surveyor, Dr. Wm. D. Steele, postmaster, F. R. Davidson and E. S. Winkle, who were also indicted for counterfeiting, were continued and transferred to the next February term of the court at Louisville.
